Homecoming activities during the week were dampened a little by rain, but the bonfire brought warmth to at least one cold, crisp night.

The Red area, brightly decorated with green and white paper, and a million cut out "E's" helped raise Commander spirit and also brought the sophomore class a first place.

Trick or Treat

Who said that Halloween is only for little kids? Eisenhower students disagreed as they participated in "Goblin Day" sponsored by the Forum.

It was not unusual to see Frankensteins, witches, devils, scarecrows, and even a 7-Up bottle walking around the school.

The masqueraders collected over $150 for the UNICEF fund. They also collected candy and many smiles from fellow students.

Professional Awareness Comes to IKE!

This year the Forum "Imagine" Committee sponsored Eisenhower's first "Careers Day". People from different walks of life were invited to speak about their various jobs and careers to interested students.

Throughout the day, students were able to attend five different seminars. Guest speakers ranging from doctors, mechanics, lawyers, artists, engineers, and nurses, provided students further insight to career opportunities.

Clubs Explore Foreign Lands

Members of the language clubs all had one thing in common: an interest in a foreign language and an interest in cultures and customs which differ from the United States.

German Club members presented the annual OKTOBERFEST dinner featuring fine German foods. In addition to sponsoring a dance, the members took time out for tobogganing and a trip to Frankenmuth.

In order to earn money for their club, French Club members sold stationery and sponsored a dance. At Christmas, they made stuffed animals for the children at ST. LUKE'S HOSPITAL.

The Spanish Club sold tacos at football games and sponsored a dance and card party. They used their funds to support an underprivileged child in Mexico.

At the year's end, all three clubs participated together in an international dinner with culinary delights from France, Germany and Spain.

Chess Club On the Move

The Chess Club matched wits against area schools such as MacArthur, Arthur Hill, and Saginaw High.

Many a lunch hour was spent in deep concentration, before a chess board, in order to make the Eisenhower Chess Club come out on top.

BOEC Receives Trophy

Eisenhower's Business and Office Education Club (BOEC) capped off a fine year by taking first place honors at the third annual Officers Training Congress.

Some of the many activities in which the BOEC members were involved included sponsoring the Eisenhower-MacArthur faculty basketball game, candy sales, a dance and the Annual Employer-Employee banquet.

The five objectives of the BOEC were: to become acquainted with people from our school and other schools in the area, who have the same career objectives as we do; to show our appreciation to our Co-Op employers; to learn and practice parlimentary procedures; to make Eisenhower's BOEC known to others.

Seniors make up the BOEC in which most of them were involved in the Co-Op program.

The four officers which represented the BOEC were President, Maria Cadiz, Vice President, Frieda Frontiera, Treasurer, Carolyn Groll, and Secretary, Linda Lindstrom. Mrs. Bette Peterson was the coordinator and adviser.

Drama Club Sponsors Successful Plays

This year's Drama Club had a reason to be proud of themselves. They successfully presented three enjoyable play productions. The first play, entitled "Flowers for Algernon", was their first straight dramatic attempt. Members of the club visited Michigan State University to see the production of "Pippin", and also attended many Pit and Balcony plays. A joint effort between Drama Club, Forensics, and Debate accomplished a successful bagel sale. With the help of Co-op a dance was also held.

The winter comedy "My Three Angels" was next on the agenda. In the spring of the year Drama Club produced their third musical, then finished up the year with an annual banquet where they announced the new officers of the up-coming year.

Santa Greets His Elves

Spirit and enthusiasm were the main objectives of this year's Pep Club members.

"Homecoming '74" was one of their major projects. Many weeks of thought and preparation went into making the Homecoming week and dance a success.

By combing creativity and new ideas in the form of games, skits and songs, the Pep Club provided school spirit at pep assemblies and games.

In addition, they sponsored the annual "Pride Week." Throughout the week, they campaigned for clean up and emphasized general school participation in spirit.

Convicts to Angels

The 1974-75 theatrical season at Eisenhower opened with a moving production of "Flowers for Algernon." This play proved to be a memorable emotional experience for the large audiences which attended.

The extremely challenging role of Charlie was portrayed by Chris Rohwer. A cast of twenty-nine contained some excellent performances by a talented group of drama students. A platform stage, combined with cubes for set pieces and unusual lighting techniques by Ron Metz, completed the presentation.

The second play of the season was a delightful comedy, "My Three Angels." The antics of the three "angels" (really three escaped convicts) helped to carry over an atmosphere of warmth and humor. The set, which was designed and constructed by Chris Rohwer and crew, received praise from all who attended.

"She must have Fainted" says Jules to Mother (Lori Davis) as Alfred holds Marie Louise (Pamm Sweet).

Greaser's "Slick" Back Into Time

Ike's third annual "Greaser Day" brought an exciting change in atmosphere to the school. During the day Ike's students observed roller skates, dad's old varsity sweater, and a lot of saddle shoes and bobby socks.

With over 125 Greaser's participating, the student bobby soxers raised nearly $700 for the St. Mary's Burn Unit of Saginaw.

The closing assembly proved to be the highpoint of the day. "Yunnan" contributed their musical talent for the hour with mellow old tunes from the 50's. The "goldfish swallowing" and "bubble gum blowing" contests also added to the day's festivities. The Ike student body found out that the 50's weren't so bad after all.

Hypnosis—It's No Joke

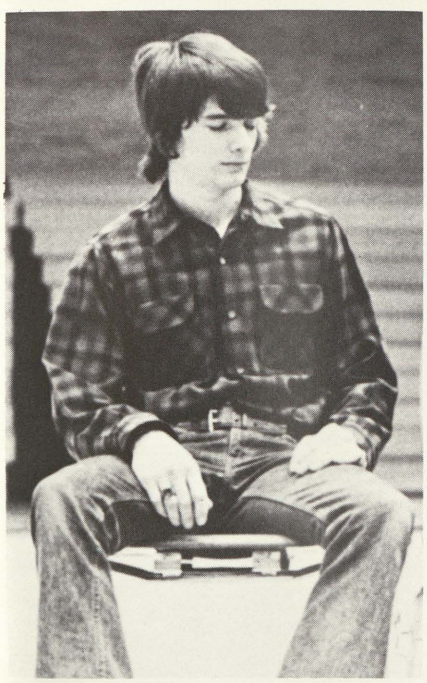
Dr. Irwin Ross explains what's going to happen to the eight kids who are going to help him.



Ed Bremer looks like he's bored with the whole situation even though he's not doing what he wants to do.

Forum Reaches

Barbie Brown has a smiling face as she has just finished singing her "Baloney" song to the Forum.

Eisenhower's Forum acts as a representative body of the school. Forum has the right and responsibility to see that the wishes of the school are considered and acted upon by the proper authority.

Eight elected members from each class and eight from the faculty make up the body of the Forum in addition to two administrators.

Among these goals were the Police Millage. By working steadily, they helped promote passage of the millage. This enabled the Township Police to re-enstate the Police-ride Along Program for students.

The Forum sponsored a "Careers Day", inviting speakers from various jobs and careers to speak to interested students.

The Saginaw Bloodmobile made the annual appearance with the Forum recruiting student and faculty donors.

Whether the goals were serious such as helping eighteen year olds to vote, or lighthearted such as sponsoring a "Goblins Day", the year was successful and many of the principle goals were accomplished.

The 1974-75 Eisenhower Choir performed another bright season of singing. Mrs. Linda Marr kept the group of thirty five people constantly practicing and performing. All their hard work resulted in several outstanding performances.

The choir's first performance was during the "Homecoming" Assembly. They sang "No man is an Island", and "Morning has broken". During the Christmas season the group performed in two concerts, one for the public and one for the student body and faculty.

Special attractions were a "Triple Trio" consisting of nine girls, and a quartet consisting of two boys and two girls.

The choir closed out the year with the "Spring Concert". They sang a variety of traditional tunes, Broadway show tunes, and pop tunes. Other performances were at Weiss Elementary School during Christmas and at the Martin Luther Manor in the Autumn season.

Eisenhower's marching band witnessed an outstanding 1974 season. Consisting of 68 members, the band performed at six football games during the season, inviting three other school bands to accompany them. They also hosted "Band Day" at which time the Ottawa and Mackinaw Middle School bands performed.

Joining the efforts of 143 other Michigan High School bands, the Eisenhower band performed at the University of Michigan "Band Day." Over 13,000 instrumentalists played during the half time of the University of Michigan vs. Navy football game.

Due to the large size of the Concert Band, Mr. Scheddel, band director, felt it was necessary to divide the band into two sections.

Tryouts for wind ensemble were held in December after Marching band was concluded. The 40 member band ensemble consisted of trumpets, clarinets, flutes, oboes, tubas, and percussion.

Concert band, mostly made up of freshman, gave the members a good opportunity to gain experience for future Eisenhower bands.

The marching band, under the direction of Jim Scheddel, endured a 27 hour bus trip (one way) for the honor of marching in two Mardi Gras parades. The 86 band members did have time to do more than just march in the parades. Accompanied by 19 chaperones, students had time to enjoy the warm weather and take in such sights as New Orleans' famous French Quarter, Bourbon Street, Heritage Hall, a wax museum and were able to relax one evening on a riverboat ride down the black water of the mighty Mississippi River.

To finance the trip, more than $10,000 was raised by band members and interested parents. To raise the needed funds, everyone cut and sold firewood, picked apples, and collected Christmas trees.

The three buses which carried the band more than 1,500 miles from home left the school the morning of Wednesday February 5 and returned early Monday morning February 10. One band member, Gary Peters, almost missed the Mardi Gras entirely after he arrived too late to ride the bus with the rest of the band. Some speedy driving and a quick flight out of Detroit to Birmingham, Alabama reunited Gary with the rest of the group.

The band, wearing newly donated white helmets, marched four miles Saturday night, in the biggest Mardi Gras parade ever. Then for 86 weary band members, the vacation was over, it was time to leave the sunny south and head back on the bus for the long trek home.

The cheerleading squads started off the new season by bringing home the "Overall Spirit Award" which they earned at camp during the summer. During the year they also displayed this spirit at numerous athletic events.

The squads were more unique than ever as seniors Carter Pohlman and Tom Gilbert joined the group by using mini-tramps, presented a new twist to cheerleading.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Linda Slaggert, the squads proved that they certainly did win the 1974 "Spirit Award."

Attending camp at Albion College in Michigan this past summer was the highlight of the year for the Varsity Pom Pon squad. Bringing home many awards including a second place trophy for "overall" performance and a third place for originality made the five day work session worthwhile.

Car washes, selling tumblers and washing windows at the drive-in were only a few of the ways the girls earned their money for camp.

In addition the Varsity as well as the Junior Varsity squads have found that they can provide enjoyable half time entertainment with the use of lights, hats, canes, strobes, and gloves. The fans go wild!

With Mrs. Nancy Leavenworth as their advisor, the Pom Pon girls are looking forward to the upcoming season.

Newspaper Turns Over New Leaf

Eisenhower's student newspaper THE WORD has shown great potential. This year was somewhat different as major goals were set and met.

With the aid from Miss Elizabeth Spaulding, newspaper and yearbook Advisor and student teacher Mr. Rick Fitzgerald, former CM LIFE editor, THE WORD made a change in layout, style, and became an attractive, effective newspaper.

Editor Joe Collison added a touch of humor with his famed "Uncle Joe's Corner." Some of 74-75 highlights were centered around students really reading the paper and getting involved as much as writing letters and voicing their opinion.

Basic

This year a new program was designed for the incoming freshmen. Known as Basic School, it was an introduction to the programs and philosophy at Eisenhower.

Four basic subjects were covered; math, science, social studies, and English.

The program changed throughout the year to meet the needs of the staff and students, and Basic School helped make the transition from middle school to high school easier.

The Spirit of "76"

The Junior class started off on the right foot this year. Some of the many activities the class of "76" has been involved with include the first dance, sale of carmel apples, and peanut sales at football games. This year the Junior Class Council is banking on $150.00 they will receive for cleaning the Student Center daily.

Some of the other money making projects added to their list were bingo, the planning of a "hop," a talent show, and the selling of glasses.

Class
'75

The Senior Class of 1975 enjoyed having the honor of being the first class to graduate from Eisenhower after attending the school for a full four years.

A paper drive, which involved the collection of old newspapers for recycling, was sponsored by the Senior Class to start the year rolling. Planning a senior trip to the Bahamas, graduation, senior party, and the annual senior card party, kept the seniors busy most of the year.

The 1974-75 Eisenhower basketball season is not one many will forget. The experienced Commanders compiled a "best ever" season record, of 15 wins against 7 losses. The regular season began with an astonishing 7 game win streak. Throughout the year the Ike Cagers continued to win ending up the year with a 14-6 record. Capping off their season was a District Tournament victory over Arthur Hill 67-54, before losing to Saginaw High 51-31.

The Commanders finished the season with a 5 win 5 loss record in the White Pine Conference. That was good enough for second place. "All Conference Honors" were given to Harley Martin and Dan Prueter. Harley Martin was also selected to the class A All Area team.

Highlighting the Commanders season was a 58-46 victory over WPC rival Mount Pleasant, and a 76-61 revenge win over Bay City All Saints. For the second year in a row, Ike won the Cheasaning Christmas Tournament with wins over Corunna and Cheasaning.

Ike Tankers Splash to Undefeated Season

The "swimming" Commanders completed their 1974-75 season with an outstanding 13-0-1 record.

The Commanders broke records in 10 out of a possible 11 events. Those people responsible for the onslaught were Carter Pohlman, Kim Taylor, Rex Rossman, John Thompson, Ian Dunscombe, Tom Woods, and Mark Miller. The most spectacular were those records set by junior Kim Taylor in the 200 IM, 500 Free, and 100 Breaststroke. Kim turned in a fine qualifying time in the 100 Breastroke with a 1:05.6, some 4.5 seconds better than his nearest competitor in the area. This record enabled Taylor to go on to state competition at Michigan State.

The future looks bright for the swim team considering they graduated only three seniors. The abilities of Pohlman, Lynch, and Gilbert will not be easily replaced. However, this year's squad demonstrated the attitude and skill to prove equal to this task.

The highlight of the season was the Eisenhower-MacArthur tournament. The game ended in a tie with a sudden death overtime which resulted in MacArthur taking the game by 1 point. The game had 2,300 spectators which was the largest amount of spectators at any high school hockey game. This game proved to be one of the best defensive games the team ever played, especially on the part of captain Ed Bremer and senior goal tender Jim Parish.

With the help of the Eisenhower Booster Club, Coach David Michelson, Assistant Coach Ron Wisniewski, Trainer Jewels Warba and Student Manager Scott Miller, the Eisenhower Hockey Club had a very successful season.

Ike's Arguers

"Resolved: That the U.S. should significantly change the method of selecting the Vice President and Presidential candidate." It may not mean much to you, but to the Debate Team it was a very controversial issue. Between positives, negatives, cross examines, rebuttals, practices and tournaments the students found little time for anything else, but it all paid off in the end. Competing in three divisions (Varsity, J.V., Novice) Ike J.V. and Novice debators took first place in the Saginaw Valley AB League and Lower Thumb League. The Varsity took fourth in the latter. The year ended with a banquet that was shared with the Forensics Team.

Tired Team Travels

If waking up on Saturday at 4:30 a.m., to meet a bus that leaves at 5:45 and then not returning home until 8:30 p.m. is your kind of fun, then you should be on the Forensics Team. Over sixty students and judges did just that as they traveled all over the state competing in events ranging from Radio News, Story Telling, Multiple Reading and Oratory, among others. They won many awards including the Sweepstakes trophy (team with most points) at Ann Arbor Pioneer's Invitational, one of the biggest meets of the season. Humorous awards were presented to outstanding students at a banquet which "wrapped up" the year.

From Plants to Poses

Plant growth, an important aid in Botany and Ecology.

The basics; "reading, riting and rithmetic" are taught at every school. But as times change, a school must also change in order to meet the needs of the students. Eisenhower is no exception.

Play production, photography and stage make-up classes provide an outlet for creativity.

Survival was the key word for the boys home economics class. Studying heredity and taking a look into the past was the main idea in the Family Background course. Learning how to cope with children was the object of the Day Care Center. Judo and Co-ed gym added to the physical education department.

The Administration Formulates Policies

The job of an administrator has many different aspects. Redoing schedules, overseeing the school during the day, and even helping students with some of the extra curricular activities are parts of their job.

Hiring new teachers and going over a limited budget are never ending responsibilities, and when a millage has been defeated this is especially difficult. They must cut back on faculty and go without supplies which are badly needed.

Making decisions! . . . that is what being an administrator is all about!

We Are the White Pine Champs!

The fears and flurries of winning that first championship are all over for Coach Lou Dulac and the Commander Baseball Squad. A 7 win and 1 loss White Pine Conference record was more than enough to convince all other conference foes that Eisenhower was the best.

The Commander "Stickers" stuck their way to a 15 win and 7 loss season behind the brilliant bat control of Seniors Rick Morley and Jim Schmitt who hailed .323 and .318 averages. Sophomore Mike Morley claimed pitching honors boasting a 8 win and 1 loss record. Seniors Dave Boers and Mike Kocks also turned in a couple of devastating performances.

Ike topped 3 teams in Class A district playoffs, and despite a no-hitter by Mike Morley dropped a 1-0 decision to Alpena in the Semifinals. For some odd reason "Mow em Down Mike" makes Coach Dulac feel secure for the 76 and 77 seasons.

For the fourth consecutive season Coach Vito Tutera's J.V. "Sluggers" have turned in a winning season. The determined Commanders batted their way to an 8 win and 5 loss record, and placed third in the WPC with a conference record of 4-4. Kevin Kocks led all stickers with a .379 average. Mark Newman and Greg Reetz were close behind with .324 and .308 averages. Harold Sweet and Craig Tucker took leading roles in the pitching column, while strong help from Tom Lutz and Dan Robertson contributed strongly. Craig Tucker pitched Ike to a 1-0 shutout victory over WPC rival Mt. Pleasant.

Freshmen Shine with 15-3 Record

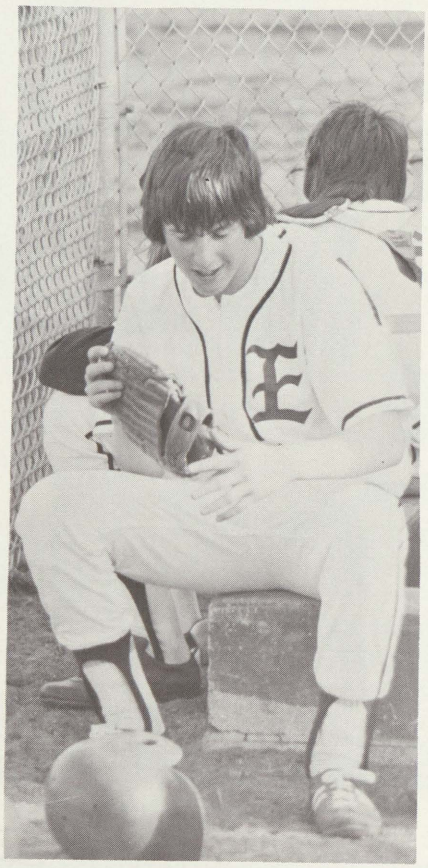
Tom Beaudin prepares to take his position.



The Eisenhower freshmen came through as expected with a fantastic record of 15-3 for the season.

A Time to Rebuild

The Girls Varsity Track Team wrapped up their second winning season in a row, bragging a 6 win, 4 loss record, including an upset victory over favored Bay City Central.

Coaches Sue Schulz and Stephanie Polzin were quite surprised when what was supposed to be a building year turned into a better than average one. The Eisenhower "Thincladettes" qualified several people for the Girls Class A State Meet, Joanne Singer qualified for the two mile, Claudette Charney for the 220, Kelly Spatz for the 440, and the 880 relay team of Melanie Ristau, Jill Cuthbertson, Kelly Spatz and Claudette Charney qualified with a fine time of 149.1.

Thinclads Win Conference!

The Commanders stole their first White Pine Conference Championship in classic form. Trailing throughout the meet, the Eisenhower "Thinclads" stormed back in the running events to pull out an unbelievable upset victory over heavily favored and defending champions, Bridgeport. Head Coach Hugh Matson and Assistant Coach Roger Hanson inspired the well improved Commanders to a 5-2 dual meet record, while faring well in the Midland, John Glenn, Bridgeport and Midland Dow Relays.

Varsity Softball Wins Again!

The 1975 Varsity Softball squad had an up and down season. When the dust had all settled the Improving Commanders displayed a respectable 9 win 9 loss record. Coach Marilyn Black was especially impressed with Ike's wins against Bay City Central and Bay City Western.

Steady pitching from Vicki LeBlanc, and all around good play from Junior Sue Laundra, and Freshman Lisa Barber helped carry the Commanders to a satisfactory building season.

An all around team effort and the returning youth leaves Mrs. Black with a good look into the future year of 76.

Junior Varsity Does the Job!

Adding to Eisenhower's "Best Season Ever" list was the 1975 Junior Varsity Softball team. Coach Cindy Sager directed the young squad to a 6 win 5 loss record. Seven returning freshmen leaves the team's hopes good for next year. The Ikettes scored an impressive victory over St. Stevens by the score of 21-10. Freshman Chris Corbett received the "Coaches Award", while strong batting by Renae Parker and Kelly Smith, mixed with strong pitching by Shelly Stelter was a key to the Commander fame.

Troubles and Triumphs

The Varsity Tennis record this year was 5-9, with Jim Teal coaching. The team placed 3rd in the Alpena Tournament, 3rd in WPC, and 4th in regionals. Doubles players Dan Bohl and Al Schwartz were named "Most Valuable Players", with their excellent record of 18-6. Brian Burr was voted "Most Improved Player." Tim Himmelspach, with his excellent record and beautiful form, received the "Coaches Award" for "Most Inspirational Performer". Mr. Bill Stocker coached the J.V. netters to a 9-4 record for the season. Eisenhower's Freshman Tennis Team, however, started off on the wrong foot as they slumped to a 1-8 losing season. # Sea Nymphs Broadcast Radio Station $WH_2O$

Radio Station $WH_2O$, was presented to an interested audience by a combination of Eisenhower and MacArthur girls known as Sea Nymphs. Also included in the show were a few boys as "sidekicks."

The program began with a routine done by the Seniors to "Ode to the Freeway." Using strobe lights, the Freshmen displayed imagination to their futuristic number.

More contemporary routines were performed to "Theme from Shaft" and "Funeral for a friend." with appropriate costumes.

The Music Man: Outstanding Success

The Eisenhower Drama Club closed out the 75 season with their third annual musical. Ike has had a short but strong history of good musicals, and "The Music Man" certainly carried on the tradition.

An outstanding and overall group effort was needed and provided to put this excellent play successfully together.

The play was directed by Miss Ruth Anne Sowle with help from Miss Cindy Brandon, choreography; Mr. Rudy Emerick, quartet; Mrs. Linda Marr, vocal music; and Mr. James Scheddel, orchestra.

Starring roles were portrayed by Chris Rohwer as Harold Hill, and by Beth Denman as Marian Paroo. Harold, Marian, and the whole cast delighted the packed audiences with dancing and songs like "Wells Fargo Wagon", "Lida Rose", and "76 Trombones."

A Dream Goes On Forever . . .

On May 3, 1975, the Sophomore Class presented the Junior Class with a prom to be remembered. "A Dream Goes on Forever", was the theme, which provided both a mysterious and enchanting mood. Music for the evening was produced by "Idlewild", who helped in making the evening a success. All who attended were moved by the beautiful atmosphere in which the prom was presented.

The End Marks The Beginning

Beginnings in my Life ????? ???????????? The Eisenhower Senior class gathered together on May 10,1975, for both the beginning and end of their lives. The silver stars and moons looked as if they floated from the sky as "Cameleon" provided a few memories from the past with their instrumental and vocal talents. The class of "75" will always remember the evening and cherish the memories of a fun-filled year.

The Class of '75—"Good Times to Remember"

Memories of a Senior Assembly with awards, speeches, and even some humor will be part of the Class of '75's treasures.

The Senior Trip to Cedar Point was twenty and one-half hours of fun and excitement filled with thrilling rides and entertainment, and "rest" on the bus ride home.

They ended their activities with a party staged at the Candlelight Inn. The party proved to be the perfect setting as Seniors danced to live music, shared friendly conversations and drinks.

White Pine Principal's Award—Barb Joswiak

Graduation Ends A Perfect Year

Eisenhower's third graduating class, the class of "75", was the largest so far and the first class to enter Eisenhower as freshmen. The tradition of the ceremony was changed a little bit this year as students from the class showed some of their talents by entertaining the audience with a few songs. Even though it was crowded, it proved to be an exciting occasion for friends and relatives of the graduates.

In any publication, mistakes are made! We are no exception. Eisenhower students were surprised to find another school's choir featured on page 38. They were not, however, as surprised as the '75 Introspectus staff. Also, three seniors were omitted from the senior section because of a most unfortunate incident. We hope these thirty-seven students will accept our apology.
